- ❖ Prologue: The Gram panchayat is involved in the Rural Development Planning .The panchayat is formed through elections.
- ❖ Introduction Of Village : - Ghaduli is an independent Panchayat in which the primary communities living are the Mohammedans, SC, Brahmin , Paradhi, Lohana, Darbar, Rabari, Patel, Koli and other communities. The main occupations of the village are farming, animal husbandry and labor. They are known for their inter-caste relationship and unity amongst themselves.

- ❖ History : This village is located under the Lakhpat block of Kachch district. This area is a very drought prone and backward area. The annual rainfall only goes upto 2-3 inches, otherwise the situation is mostly drought prone. Historically, the main communities residing were only the Darbar, Garasiya Jats, and Bhanushali.

The old Ghaduli village was located on the hills to the east of the Shiv temple. There was a big Chowk on the south of the Shiv temple where garba was played during Navratri. The main market and the shops of the village was located in the same place. The old chowk with its remnants still remains on the hills till date. Due to the flow of Saamna and frequent droughts the population of the Bhanushali decreased. In the end Mr. Verar Nonganji brought Mr. Harbham Kachra Sankhla from the village of Rasaliya and gave him land for agriculture.

In the year of 1942 on the first wednesday of the Gujarati MAHA month Mr. Harbham Kachra Sankhla along with his two sons, Mr. Punja Harbham and Harji Harbham established their stay in the new Ghaduli village.

The main income source of the village is agriculture. In the early days when the area was drought-prone, the villagers used to go to Karachi, Queta and Sindhu to earn money through agriculture and business. They used to go to Pakistan through Rann on camels and whenever they used to get information about rainfall in their own country, they used to return for agriculture. In the year of 1947 when India and Pakistan were partitioned, then the people from here in Pakistan had to leave everything behind in Pakistan and come back with nothing.

Village Development- Socially, Cooperative and Political

India attained independence in 1947 and democracy was established everywhere. In 1958, Gram Panchayat formation in the whole Kachchh district was first started by the formation of the Ghaduli Gram Panchayat. The cooperative structure was first formed in the Ghaduli village of the Lakhpat block. In 1958, Ghaduli Cooperative Mandli was established. The water supply in Kachchh district was first set up in 1959 by the collector of Kachchh Mr. Khabade. Panchayati Raj was established in 1962. The Block Panchayat of Lakhpat block was first established in the village Ghaduli through the first Chief Minister of Gujarat, Mr. Jivraj Mehta.

The first primary school with one room was set up in Ghaduli in the year of 1951. Later, in 1986, a higher secondary school was also established.
